IRAN: Attacks on Afghan Refugees

Iranians in the Tehran area attacked 13 Afghan refugees in three separate incidents last week, according to a statement by the Iranian Interior Minister on national television. The Minister named the incidents as "Afghan agents of the US and the USSR" who he said "want to fan communal tensions in Iran and to encourage Iranian support for the Islamic Afghan resistance."

Comment: These incidents reflect the distrust of many Iranians, especially the poor, who resent the influx of over 1 million to 1.5 million Afghan refugees in Iran. Refugees in CPS countries housed and receive welfare benefits that might otherwise go to hard pressed Iranians, including the nearly 2 million Iranian refugees from the war with Iraq. Few Iranians will believe that the incidents were provoked by foreign meddling. Although more violence is likely, Tehran's mosques certainly will continue to support the refugees.
